SUPERVISOR'S REPORT – Michael Kasprzyk

- A. Snowstorm impact – FEMA. Regarding the November storms that dropped up to 7 feet of snow on sections of Western New York, the Supervisor said, “We dodged the bullet.” The second round of the snowstorm dropped up to four feet in sections of Holland, but residents were better able to cope with that amount. The Supervisor reported that Highway Superintendent Patrick Joyce “helped out other towns” with snow removal and plowing. He said that Jill Zientek had put together the cost of the storm for Holland, and that the numbers had been submitted to FEMA.

- B. Meals on Wheels – One client was injured during the recent snowstorm, when she lost her balance, fell, and spent the night on the floor. She was found the next day by MOW volunteers who had come to deliver her meals for the day. “This is one facet of Meals on Wheels that I hadn’t thought of. It’s really important,” said the Supervisor, referring to the “checking up” that MOW volunteers do with their clients.
- C. Rural Transit – looking for volunteers. “Rural Transit has served out community for many years, and has a van that we share with the Town of Sardinia,” said the Supervisor. Holland’s contribution is down to just four hours once a week. Volunteers need a regular driver’s license – no special license is required to drive the van – a clean driving record, and the ability to pick up and drop off the van in Sardinia, where it is based. A typical day would be 9:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m., but shorter hours would be accepted. The Supervisor asked those present to “keep their ears open” for anyone who may be interested in volunteering.
- D. Unsafe building – 7148 Olean Rd. The Supervisor said the Town has dealt with owner Grant Mix “since late spring, and has afforded him every opportunity” to submit a plan to make the house habitable, “but, that hasn’t happened.”
“At this time, I would like to recommend to the Board that the public works department to advertise for bids to demolish, and put it on the tax rolls. I don’t think we have any choice. We have been very patient, and nothing has come back in the way of a plan [to remedy the situation],” he said.

RESOLUTION # 101-2014

8:73 p.m. - Motion made by C. Kline. Second by C. Kolacki, resolve the Town of Holland advertise for bids to demolish a house at 7184 Olean Rd.
